Mountain Project Is Emergency Communications Center, Times Is Informed By Army Engineer

The army project in the mountain at Beard's Lot (Fountaindale), or Raven Rock as it is officially referred to by the Corps of Army Engineers, will be a joint communications center for the Army, Navy and Air Force. It will serve as an alternate to the various transmission and receiving stations already set up by these three services. Colonel Allen J. McCutchen, Corps of Engineers, Washington, D. C., told The Gettysburg Times this morning over long distance telephone.

It is an emergency source or supplemental communication center and the main structure will be underground, Colonel McCutchen said. "We want to be sure we have such a center in event of an emergency," he said.

The army engineer told The Times that he could not say what the cost will be, the size of the project, the extent of the tunneling or any further details regarding the project. He did say that there will be two entrances, both of which will be in Pennsylvania.

Colonel McCutchen clarified the land acquisition issue as follows: All the owners of land we propose to acquire have been officially notified of such acquisition. There may be some minor changes in the development as further progress is made but none is anticipated of a major nature. There will not be an airfield in connection with the project.

The Colonel said that reporters are not permitted on the project and that none would be taken to the interior of the diggings.

International Tension Adds Fervency To Easter Rites

(By The Associated Press) Continuing international tensions heightened the fervency of peace-hungry Easter celebrants throughout the Christian world yesterday (Sunday).

Even in Eastern Europe, where orthodox Christianity no longer is favored as a way of life, Easter services were jammed.

In the face of a bleak world prospect, the celebration of the resurrection of the Prince of Peace had added significance, and prayers for the end of strife took on new meaning.

Thousands Of Pilgrims Thousands of pilgrims flocked to the site of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. They found in the Holy Land a twentieth century symbol of the crown of thorns—barbed wire entanglements remaining from the 1948 Arab-Jewish fighting.

Pilgrims to Rome heard Pope Pius XII make a fervent appeal for brotherly accord to free the world of lust and violence so that all might live and work in peace.

FLORISTS EXEMPT

Washington, March 26 (P)—The government today exempts the florist industry from price control. The order goes into effect tomorrow. Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said floral products do not enter significantly into the cost of living. He said their exemption from the general price freeze will not substantially divert materials, facilities or manpower from the national defense effort.

This is understood to be the first major purely domestic industry to be withdrawn from the price control program since the general freeze January 26.

FIREMEN WILL DECIDE MARCH 31 ON FIRE TRUCK

Members of the apparatus committee and the Gettysburg fire company will witness a demonstration of a Mack fire truck next Saturday afternoon, and then hold a special meeting at the fire engine house to decide which truck they want to buy, Mack or American LaFrance.

This was announced Saturday afternoon by Burgess William G. Weaver, president of the fire company, following a demonstration of the American LaFrance apparatus. Members of Susquehanna Fire company No. 4 of Columbia, Pa., brought their truck here for Saturday's demonstration. It is similar to the one on which a price was submitted to the Gettysburg firemen on March 13.

Approximately 50 firemen and officials witnessed Saturday afternoon's demonstration at the John S. Teeter and Sons quarry on the Baltimore pike. The truck's four-inch suction hose was lowered into Rock creek and a line of hose was laid from the pumper. After the demonstration the truck was driven through the streets.

The local fire company's specifications call for a 500-gallon per minute pumper with 500-gallon booster tank.

Prices submitted are good only to April 1, fire company officials said, giving this as the reason for the special meeting following the Mack demonstration next Saturday afternoon.

At 3:06 o'clock all the eggs had been discovered by the children. The youngsters varied in age from about two through seven.

An address on work in leprosy colonies, hospitals and clinics will be given by Charles W. Crist, field secretary of Pennsylvania for the American Missions, Inc., Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Methodist church.

The American Leprosy Missions, Inc., which Mr. Crist represents, is an interdenominational Protestant agency from which boards of missions draw support of their leprosy institutions. Several hundred doctors, nurses and evangelistic missionaries have their leprosy work supported through its efforts. It provides aid to 140 leprosy colonies, hospitals, and clinics in 29 countries.

Aid To Patients

Mr. Crist will discuss the role played by Christian missions in ministering spiritually to the 10 million victims throughout the world in providing thousands with the sulphone drugs which now make many patients symptom-free, and in arousing governments to take preventive and curative steps. He will tell also how leprosy patients and ex-patients in the United States suffer from the social stigma of leprosy.

Mr. Crist has spent a number of years in philanthropic and Christian work. He was a YMCA secretary in Philadelphia, Scranton and Pittsburgh before becoming manager of the Red Cross for metropolitan Philadelphia.

Recently, he and Mrs. Crist spent some time at the leprosyarium of the United States government at Carville, La., where over 400 patients are receiving sulfa drug treatment with good results. ## Heavy Easter Traffic Here; Expect Big Tourist Season

If the Easter Sunday and week-end travel over the battlefield is any criterion, Gettysburg should enjoy a record tourist season this year.

Tourist travel over the battlefield Sunday was unusual for so early in the year, and more like an August Sunday afternoon, Vernon S. Lunt, superintendent of the national cemetery, said today.

Visitation to the Gettysburg National Military park over the Easter week-end was approximately 1,000 less than for Easter week-end a year ago, according to the records kept by the local park office.

Saturday and Sunday a total of 4,786 visited the field as compared to 5,753 for the same period last year. This year the Easter week-end fell on March 24 and 25, while last year the two days were April 8 and 9. This year the temperature was in the 40s, last year it was in the 50s.

A total of 2,290 visited the field Saturday, including six buses, and 3,496 were here on Sunday. Last year there were 2,905, including 117 in four buses, on the Saturday and 2,848 on the Sunday.

The week-end travel included about 15 busloads of school children

SIX INJURED, 1 ARRESTED IN CRASHES HERE

WILL FORM AG COMMITTEE TO AID WAR AFFORT

Formation of an Agricultural Mobilization committee to carry out a number of activities in connection with the war effort is scheduled to be effected this afternoon at a meeting in the local Production and Marketing committee office.

The committee, similar to the war board set up during World War II, will comprise three members of the PMA committee, representatives of the Soil Conservation unit here, the REA, Richard C. Lightner, head of GI farm training and supervisor of agricultural education for the county; representatives of the county agricultural extension office and representatives of the Farm and Home administration.

Principal duty of the new unit will be to secure needed repair parts for farm machinery for county farmers by establishing the need for hard-to-get parts on which priorities may be established.

The group is also scheduled to offer its services to the local selective service board in connection with farm deferments. During World War II, the War board made investigations for the draft boards in connection with agricultural deferments, established priorities in securing various articles and advised the rationing board in connection with farm allocations of gasoline.

Mrs. Charles H. Schaefer, 241 Baltimore street, reported to borough police that someone stole a nurse's white uniform from a clothesline at her home between 11:30 and 12 o'clock noon Sunday.

Patrols Pierce Lines

On the central front an American division was reported within two miles of North Korea. On the east coast South Korean patrols punctured the imaginary line like a sieve, crossing and recrossing at will.

Field dispatches said Red resistance melted. The Americans advanced rapidly despite soupy Korean mud.

The entire UN line drew closer to Parallel 38. It appeared the Allies could cross in force whenever they chose.

On the peninsula south of the Taedong estuary which leads to Chinnampo, port city for the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

From the western front AP Correspondent Jim Becker quoted U. S. officers as saying the link-up "saved us four or five days of tough fighting."

Fight Delaying Action The officers said the Chinese 26th Army Corps, rushed into defensive positions north of Seoul only last week, had withdrawn.

Until the link-up, the Reds fought a stubborn delaying action along the road leading north to Uijongbu. Heavy Red troop concentrations were reported just north of the 38th Parallel. Parts of six Chinese and North Korean armies were spread between and around the North Korean towns of Yonchon and Hwachon.

Yonchon is about six miles north of the border, almost due north of Seoul. Hwachon is about seven miles north of 38 and 16 air miles due north of Chunchon on the central front. Hwachon is also about 10 miles northeast of the point where the main highway from Chunchon crosses the parallel. An American division was reported two miles south of this point.

Ships Shell Foe Fifth Air Force fighters attacked Hwachon Monday, taking over where night-flying B-26 light bombers left off at dawn. Fifth Air Force headquarters reported 350 sorties flown by noon. Strikes also were made against Kumchon and the military crossroads town of Kumhwa.

On Korea's east coast Republic of Korea (ROK) units operated with sea-borne artillery. Allied ships lying offshore pounded Red installations as ROK patrols jabbed across Parallel 38.

HOOVER URGES EXTENSION OF SENATE PROBE

Washington, March 26 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today urged the Senate Crime committee to continue its exposure of organized crime which "has polluted all too many communities of our nation."

He called also for local communities to take the lead in ruthlessly eliminating criminal elements and their ally, "the political renegade." Every community, Hoover suggested, should have a yearly grand jury investigation to scrutinize the administration of justice.

Hoover and Attorney General McGrath were before the Senate committee to discuss what new laws may be needed to combat crime.

Other Recommendations
McGrath urged that Congress tighten the laws against perjury—false testimony under oath—and give him authority to grant immunity to a witness who declines to testify lest he incriminate himself.

He recommended, too, legislation aimed to deny use of communications facilities for gambling information. But he emphasized that any such law should take into account the importance of maintaining the freedom of the press.

Even as the law enforcement officers were testifying, a New York grand jury returned two indictments on perjury charges growing out of the committee's hearings there.

Two Indicted
Those indicted were James J. Moran, resigned New York city water commissioner, and Louis Weber, acknowledged Brooklyn numbers bookmaker. They were accused of lying in testimony about their associations with each other.

ADD HOOVER URGES
McGrath, with some show of heat, told the Senators there was no way the federal government could deport Frankie Costello, New York racketeer, who is a native of Italy but was naturalized in 1925. McGrath's show of anger came when he said some newspapers were "trying to make it appear" the justice department had means to deport Costello.

McGrath opposed suggested creation of a federal crime commission, saying it might lead to creation of a national police force.

Hoover also opposed a national police force. And he declared, "What is really needed is not more laws but the will to enforce those laws already on the statute books." Hoover said the law enforcement officials in the nation, for the most part, "are honest and anxious to do a good job."

Lands Committee
"Regardless of their personal honesty, however, they are frequently powerless to act," he continued. "Only aroused and enlightened citizens can take the handcuffs off their wrists and place them where they belong, upon the racketeers, criminals and corrupt politicians."

He said "one vigorous crusading newspaper which does not pull its punches can do more to build up a will to enforce existing laws than the enactment of new laws which shift responsibility from local authorities and provide an alibi for their failures."

Hoover paid high tribute to the committee for developing facts "which brought out into the open entanglements between the underworld and the upperworld, and unholy alliances between the criminal elements and officialdom which established a shocking disregard for law and order."

embattled congregations Christ's message of hope.

Crowds In Moscow
In Communist-governed Czechoslovakia, in Soviet-occupied East Germany and in Moscow itself, Easter services were jammed. In the Philippines, soldiers with fixed bayonets guarded the faithful from possible raids by the Red-inspired Hukbalahaps.

There were cheerful aspects, however. New York and Paris staged the customary Easter fashion shows. Sudden showers fell in Israel, breaking the worst drought in 80 years.

A new note of reconciliation between Arabs and Jews in the Holy Land was appropriate to the day. An incident of the sort that has led to bitter dispute and even armed clashes was settled quickly and amicably. The Israeli government agreed to return 140 sheep that had strayed across the border from Jordan territory. The Jordanians agreed to pay for damage caused by the sheep, as well as the expense of feeding and guarding them.

STUDY AID TO LATIN AMERICA

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The Truman administration is urgently considering an unprecedented $30,000,000 military aid program for Latin America. This was learned today in advance of the opening here of an Inter-American Foreign Ministers conference.

The first session of the conference gets underway at about 3:30 p.m., EST, with an address by President Truman. The American chief executive was expected to make an appeal for tight unity of western hemisphere nations against the worldwide Soviet Communist threat.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, American member of the conference, has as his chief objective in the meeting an agreement that the Central and South American Nations will build up their military strength so that they can carry a greater load of hemisphere defenses, now borne chiefly by the U. S.

Latin American governments in pre-conference exchanges have made it clear that if they are to increase their military establishments they will require American help. This has confronted the State and Defense Departments with the question of how help may be provided.

Informed officials said today recent discussions have resulted in a tentative agreement to seek final White House approval for an arms and program—somewhat similar to but far smaller than that for western Europe—of about $80,000,000. The European program runs into many billions.

EDDIE COLLINS, BASEBALL STAR, EXPIRES SUNDAY

oston, March 26 (AP)—Edward (Eddie) Collins, 63, a name in baseball for some 45 years, died last night of a heart condition which had benched him for several years. Death came to the Hall of Fame president of the Boston Red Sox at Peter Bent Brigham hospital where he was admitted March 19 after a recurrence of the malady. He had been less than two months from his last public appearance, on February 1, when baseball writers played him at their dinner "for meritorious service" to the game.

He left his beloved Philadelphia Athletics, with whom he broke into the game in 1906 while a Columbia University student, to join Tom Sawyer when the millionaire sports enthusiast and business man bought the moribund Sox.

Collins participated in six World Series, played more games than any other second baseman in baseball history and was elected to the great Hall of Fame in 1939.

High Batting Mark
He compiled a .333 batting average in 25 years of active play. His is the first death among the members of Connie Mack's fabulous 0.600 infield which was broken after the 1914 season when Boston's miracle Braves whipped the four straight World Series.

His other members were first baseman Stuffy McInnis, now a yard baseball coach, shortstop Harry who coaches Holy Cross, third baseman Frank "Home" Baker, now a Trappe, Md., farmer.

Collins, known as "Cocky" to old-time baseball figures, was born in Herten, N. Y., son of John and Mary Collins, May 2, 1887.

Connie Mack first became interested in Collins when the future Hall of Fame member played for Rockville, Conn., semipro team for the name of Sullivan.

Mack signed him under that name in 1906 when he took a western tour with the A's and played in few games.

He came into his own in 1909 when Mack finally assigned him to the end base after experimenting with him at shortstop and in the field.

He batted .346 that season and topped below the magic .300 figure by .01 in 1917-1918.

His batting average for six World Series was .330. He played in four Philadelphia seasons and two with the Chicago White Sox to whom he was sold for the then amazing price of $50,000 in 1914.

Escapes In Scandal
His honor never was questioned when some of his 1919 Chicago teammates sold out to gamblers in baseball's greatest scandal.

He stayed with Chicago until 1926 when he was released after leading the White Sox manager two seasons.

Connie Mack immediately rehired him and made him team captain. After age caught up with him Collins became a coach with the Athletics and left that post to Yawkey in building up the Sox from a rag tag outfit to a powerful pennant contender.

Collins' first wife, Mabel Doane of Philadelphia who mothered his two sons, died in 1943 and he subsequently married Mrs. Emily Jane Hall, a widow, in 1945.

The latter marriage ceremony was performed by his son, Father Paul Collins, an Episcopal clergyman, now in vacationing in Europe. His other immediate survivor is Eddie, Jr., an executive with the Philadelphia Phillies who played lefty as an outfielder with the Athletics.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 26 (AP)—What are colleges doing to prevent another basketball scandal like the one which rocked New York during the winter? . . . Tell Tug Wilson, Big Ten commissioner and secretary-treasurer of the National Collegiate A. A., just shakes his head and looks worried when you ask that question. . . . "I think that's a problem for the individual coaches and institutions," Tug says. "Some of them have been careless. They have to be close to their boys." . . . The NCAA will only answer, too. . . . The NCAA will consider a ban on summer resort basketball (the "fixes") were initiated at Catskill resorts and will discuss moving its title tournament out of Madison Square Garden at an executive meeting next summer. . . . But Wilson admits that probably isn't the answer. . . . To be consistent, the NCAA also would have to abandon the "commercial" sites in Kansas City and Chicago. A return to college field houses might be more profitable but would bring an entirely new set of problems. . . . No wonder Tug sometimes growls about the difficulty of governing the athletic affairs of 300 colleges when he can collect enough headaches trying to run ten.

MONDAY MATINEE

Roundabout report from Florida says the Athletics are crying the financial blues again and may have gone into hock to pay the spring training bills. . . . Washington State college is all steamed up over Howard McCants, a six-foot-eight, 235-pound athlete from River Rouge, Mich., who high-jumped six feet, three inches in tennis shoes. . . . Coach Jack Mooberry, looking around for a pair of size 16 spiked shoes to fit Howard, thinks McCants is the best prospect he has seen since record-holder Les Steers.

DOT'S ALL BROTHERS

One appropriately named athlete is Vic Power, negro outfielder with the Syracuse Chiefs, who hit 20 doubles, 10 triples and 14 homers in the Provincial league last season. . . . Plainville moan from Rice institute, which finished way down there in football and basketball in the Southwest conference and has few bright prospects for baseball and track: "Finding something bright around here is like taking an eye test in a coal mine."

'ANOTHER FIXER' BEING SOUGHT IN BRIBE SCANDAL

New York, March 26 (AP)—College basketball's sensational bribery scandal was back in the spotlight today with authorities seeking another fixer.

The Manhattan district attorney's office said it was searching for "another fixer, not yet arrested" after former New York university star Don Forman was detained Saturday as a material witness.

Meanwhile, the Senate Crime Investigation committee was reported to be conducting a secret probe into testimony that several college referees may be involved in new fixes.

At Saturday's public session in Washington, the committee heard self-described professional gambler Sidney A. Brodson, of Milwaukee, testify that he suspected "three, four, or five" still-active referees were "fixed" by gamblers.

Supplied The Names
Brodson was not pressed to give names, but he said at least one of the referees worked in the Midwest Big Ten conference and one in the east's Ivy League.

He told newsmen later that he suspected one game in the recent National Invitation basketball tournament in Madison Square Garden also was fixed.

The Milwaukee Journal reported Saturday that Brodson later met with the committee in closed session and supplied the names of "four or five" names, several players and two officials. At this secret session, the paper said, Brodson was questioned about an unidentified gambler, from Miami, Fla., and Steubenville, Ohio.

The paper asserted Miami police had supplied the committee with a report of telephone calls made by the gambler to college football towns. There was no confirmation of this reported secret session from Washington.

In New York City, the bribe scandal rebounded with the detention of Forman, who is from Jacksonville, Fla. He was released in $5,000 bail. Forman was the 14th player or former player involved in the scandal along with five alleged fixers. Four local college teams have been mentioned in the case.

Training Camp Briefs

Clearwater, Fla., March 26 (AP)—

The Philadelphia Phillies meet the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg today in the fourth and final game between the two teams.

A win for the Cards would even their grapefruit circuit record with the National League champions. All three previous Card-Phil contests have been decided by one run. The Phils took the last tilt, Friday, 1-0.

Yesterday the Detroit Tigers pushed across two runs against Jim Donohue in the last of the ninth to hand the Phils an 8-7 setback. It was the fifth loss in 14 games for Philadelphia.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 26 (AP)—Joe Coleman and Bobby Shantz will be on the mound today when the Philadelphia Athletics tangle with the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota.

Because both Tuesday and Wednesday games against the Brooklyn Dodgers have been switched from night to day, the A's will leave for Miami immediately after today's game.

Yesterday the Mackmen evened their spring series against the Boston Braves at two and two by beating Warren Spahn, 8-3.

San Bernardino, Calif., March 26 (AP)—Don't be surprised if George Strickland opens the season as the Pittsburgh Pirates' regular shortstop.

General Manager Branch Rickey has this to say of Strickland: "He has shown me more than I expected to see at shortstop. At first I wasn't too high on that boy but Bill Meyer (Pirate field manager) said he had fine hands and all he needed to become a major leaguer was to perk up at the bat. Meyer, as usual, was right. Strickland is much better than I thought. He's going to be hard to get out of the lineup."

Los Angeles, March 26 (AP)—Andy Carey, bonus third baseman, was ordered to report to the New York Yankees' Kansas City farm base at Lake Wales, Fla., today. Carey, a protégé of Johnny Vergez, former New York Giants' Philadelphia Phils' and St. Louis Cardinals' infielder, is highly regarded by the Yank brass.

Vero Beach, Fla., March 26 (AP)—Walt O'Malley, Brooklyn Dodgers president, admits that he talked to Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinal boss, over the week-end but insisted there was no deal in the pending.

"I have not offered him any Dodgers player and if Saigh is interested in making a deal he did not indicate to me," O'Malley said.

Reports say that the Dodgers are trying to get Card holdout pitcher Howie Pollet and that the Cards are interested in an infielder, supposedly Ed Miksis.

Lakeland, Fla., March 26 (AP)—Larry Jansen, New York Giants' righthander, who is always well up in the "home run ball club" is a member in good standing once again.

Jansen had eleven scoreless innings to his credit when Mike Guerra of the Boston Red Sox shattered his streak with a three-run homer yesterday in the second. Two innings later Bobby Doerr socked Larry for another three-run round-tripper to clinch the Red Sox' 6-1 victory.

Tucson, Ariz., March 26 (AP)—Flush from a four-game foray of the Pacific Coast league, Cleveland's Indians could be resting up today. But they're not.

Competition for regular positions keeps them hustling, especially the outfielders.

Larry Doby, of course, has center-field clinched. But left or right field hopefuls can't relax. Only two men from among Dale Mitchell, Bob Kennedy, Orestes Minoza and Harry Simpson can win regular jobs.

3 PIAA TITLES TO BE DECIDED IN FINAL WEEK

Harrisburg, March 26 (AP)—School-boy basketball bows out this week with 10 schools still eligible for the PIAA's three-state championships.

Allentown, Farrell, Swoyersville and Pittsburgh Westinghouse still are eligible in Class A while Avalon, Kutztown, Meadood and Mercer remain in Class B. Mt. Joy of Lancaster county will meet Fredonia of Mercer county tomorrow night at Lebanon for the first Class C state championship.

Allentown's District 11 champions meet Swoyersville of District 2 Wednesday night at Hershey for the eastern Class A title while Farrell of District 7 battles Westinghouse, Pittsburgh city champion, at Sharon high school. The two survivors clash Saturday night at the Penn Palstra in Philadelphia.

Kutztown's defending Class B state champions meet Meadood, winner of the first Class B title in 1945, in the eastern finals at Allentown's Rockne hall tomorrow night. At the same time the unbeaten Mercer Mustangs oppose Avalon's Panthers, WPIAL winners, at Farrell.

The Class B state championship game is scheduled for the Pitt Pavilion in Pittsburgh on Friday night.

Teams Evenly Matched
The four Class A contenders, which have survived a month of rugged post-season competition, are evenly-matched at this stage.

Allentown's Canaries, with a 19-5 season record, are shooting for their fifth state title although two were vacated when the PIAA ruled they had used ineligible players. Swoyersville, which eliminated the Canaries last year, 59-39, while winning eastern honors, will carry a 24-3 record into the game.

Swoyersville turned back Bloomsburg and Chambersburg so far in the playoffs while Allentown eliminated Radnor in its only inter-district game.

Farrell's Steelers, champions of the huge WPIAL, has 26 victories against two defeats while Westinghouse's Bulldogs lost the same number against 19 victories, including the last 17 in a row. However, one of Westinghouse's losses was a 45-43 decision to Farrell in an early season game.

Farrell won the western crown in 1943 before losing to Lower Merion in the state title match, 20-23. Westinghouse lost to Homestead's state champions last year in the western finals, 39-34, for its closest approach to the state title.

Class B, C Games
Kutztown, with an overall mark of 24-2, will put a 22-game winning streak on the line against Meadood's Maroons tomorrow night at Allentown's Rockne hall. However, the Maroons themselves have won their last 13 games to compile a season mark of 29-3.

Mercer, now the only unbeaten public school in the state with 25 straight victories, must buck up against the Avalon Panthers who have lost only three games in 26 attempts against tough WPIAL competition.

Fredonia, western Class C champion for the second straight year, boasts at 12-game win streak and a 24-2 record as the Vocals tangle with Mt. Joy with Mt. Joy, winner of 15 of its 17 games.

SCHOOL LOOP HAS 12 GAMES
A 12-game baseball schedule for the South Penn Scholastic league has been announced.

The league will swing into action on Tuesday, April 17, when Gettysburg high plays at Shippensburg and Chambersburg is host to Hanover.

Other games follow: April 24, Chambersburg at Gettysburg; Shippensburg at Hanover; May 1, Chambersburg at Shippensburg; Gettysburg at Hanover; 4, Chambersburg at Shippensburg; 11, Shippensburg at Gettysburg; 15, Hanover at Gettysburg; Shippensburg at Chambersburg.

Deardorff Named To All-Tourney Basketball Team

Ken Deardorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Deardorff, Steinhewer avenue, was the second selection for the all-tournament team selected for the National Junior College basketball tourney held last week at Hutchinson, Kan.

Deardorff, a former Gettysburg high star, was a member of the York Junior college quintet. He tallied 69 points in three games during the tournament and was ranked as an outstanding all-around performer.

During the season Deardorff set a new record for the York team by scoring 353 points. A freshman, he won a trophy for being the outstanding player in the All-State tournament at Hazleton which was won by York.

11 PA. SOLONS VOTE CUT IN P. O. APPROPRIATIONS
Washington, March 26 (AP)—Eleven Pennsylvania House members voted with the minority last week in an effort to trim $22,000,000 from a Postoffice Department appropriation.

Pennsylvania representatives voted 11 to 9 to cut the appropriation, but the attempt was defeated by a 138 to 136 House vote.

Earlier, the House reduced appropriations on other items. There were no roll calls on these votes.

Pennsylvanians voting for the $22,000,000 cut on the Postoffice Department appropriation were: Reps. Dague, Denny, Fenton, Graham, Kearns, McConnell, Hugh D. Scott, Jr., Simpson, Stittler, Van Zandt and Vaughn, all Republicans.

Voting against the cut were Reps. Chudoff, Eberhart, Flood, Granahan, Lind, Morgan and Walter, Democrats, and James, Republican. James is a member of the House appropriations committee that handled the bill.

Senators Vote Alike
Passage of the bill will provide appropriations for the Treasury and Postoffice Departments and the Export-Import Bank.

Not voting but paired were Reps. Barrett, Buchanan, O'Neill and Rhodes, Democrats, all paired as though voting no; and Gavin and Gillette, Republicans, paired as though voting yes.

Not voting and not specifically paired were Reps. Bush, Corbett, Fulton, Mumma, Saylor and Hardie, all Republicans, and Green, Democrat.

On the other side of the capitol, Senators Martin and Duff, Republicans, voted against a bill for federal grants to assist the states in the development of local public health units. The bill, however, was passed, 38 to 35.

Opposition to the bill generally was based on economy arguments. Opponents contended this was no time to begin such a program.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ONLY

Our entire life is regulated, and to a large extent controlled, by values. It is unfortunate that so many of these values are influenced by mere money. After all it's only money! The intangibles—love, beauty, fragrance and influence—are far greater in power, yet money is forever breaking in upon them.

These intangibles have a spiritual wrapping that gives to them an immortal cast whereas any thing material degrades them, stunts their distribution and growth, and withers their power. These intangibles are everything. Money is only money! Yet the tangibles of money are forever reaching out, often strangling the best hopes and dreams in life.

How greatly we are arrested from grasping at the quality of life! Nothing is so outstanding in character as this very thing of quality. Mere money success—who would happily devote his only life to its pursuit? R. B. Cunningham Gramham, one of the most singular of British authors, wrote this in his remarkable sketch on "Success":

"For those who fail, for those who have sunk still battling beneath the muddy waves of life, we keep our love and that curiosity about their lives which makes their memories green when the cheap gold is dusted over, which once we gave success."

Only to give out love and be loved, to leave worth and influence behind—not mere accumulations to stir envious, jealousies or strife—who would not prefer this to anything else appraised in terms of monetary value? What an interesting exhibit is the human heart, with all doors open and all the blinds up, with the sunlight of Heaven streaming in!

People who live from day to day for their happiness only, or for their present life alone, miss the significance of the dawn, of the rainbow in the sky, and of the purpose of creation itself. God's smile is reserved for the selfless, as it is for the shining of a star, or the fresh bloom of the desert flower! For this life now—and perhaps beyond!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Why, Daddy?"

NEW TYPEWRITER

Now you come to replace the old—
Typewriter silent, but hale and hearty.

"Now is the time," is all you've told,
"For men to come to the aid of their party."

Fresh from the merchant's newest stocks;
Roller, the type bars have scarcely smitten.

That practice line of "the quick brown fox"

Is all, thus far, you have ever written.

Today you are starting to work with me.

We've a task to do, and as we begin it

I wonder if you'll be as proud of me

As I'm proud of you at this very minute.

There are splendid thoughts on your keyboard now.

On the paper white you would clearly ink them,

But there's nothing about them that you can do about 50 acres of land, with improvements, on the York Turnpike, two miles from Gettysburg, from Fletcher and William Vanorsdel, at $43.50 per acre.

But patiently wait for me to think them.

We congratulate the Methodist church in the continuance of Rev. M. L. Ganoie in this pastorate. His ministrations have not only been acceptable to his own church, but to the members of the other denominations of the town. The Central Pennsylvania Conference held their sessions at Harrisburg last week.

The great storm which has extended all over the country, causing great destruction of property and some lives, visited us on Saturday and Tuesday.

On Tuesday afternoon and evening the rain fell in torrents, making our streets a sheet of water. The streams have risen very much.

On the evening of Tuesday, the 14th inst., our citizens were startled by an alarm of fire. It was caused by the burning of a chimney in the residence of Mrs. Talbert, at the west end of Chambersburg street. The fire extended to the ceiling of the second floor, but was soon extinguished.

Accident: On Monday Mr. Charles W. Gilbert, whilst engaged in tussling with some persons, dislocated the cap of his right knee, and ruptured the ligament. He was taken home by Mr. Isaac Diehl, and is doing well, but will be confined to bed for some time.

On Saturday an infant daughter of Rev. John Ault, of Littlestown, was seriously scalded in the mouth and throat, by drinking from the mouth of a tea-pot.

ACQUAINTANCE AMONG NATIONS AID TO PEACE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It will strike a lot of folk as more than passing strange that very little interest has been shown abroad in the sensations developed by the U.S. Senate Crimes Investigating committee.

One reason undoubtedly is that the average foreign country, the world over, has so many troubles of its own today that it finds small time for the worries of others. However, I got another slant when I asked an English woman for an explanation. She turned a saucy eye on me and said:

"The chief reason for lack of interest in England probably is that we have been led to believe gangster influence is a part of America's life. It's routine. Motion pictures have helped cultivate this idea."

Accepted As "America"

Well, that undoubtedly is at least a partial explanation not only as regards England but many other countries. Untold millions abroad have come to accept the gangster and the two-gun westerner as true. Their education has been completed by the portrayals of multi-millionaire luxury.

The result is that foreigners as a whole divide Americans up into three classes: Millionaires, gangsters and cowboys.

Obviously much of the misinformation is due to lack of personal observation in America. The foreigner who has traveled in the United States finds his strange ideas dissipated and he gets a new perspective. And that cuts both ways, for many Americans have false notions about foreign lands which could be cured by travel.

Billions Being Spent

However in seeking a solution one is struck by the fact that the nations of the world are spending untold billions in all sorts of projects, many of them calculated to foster better relations among nations. Some persons have asked:

What's the matter with diverting some of these billions to enabling public spirited citizens of various countries to visit other lands? Let them get acquainted and then carry the story to the folks back home.

You could move a lot of educators with a billion dollars. And could remove a lot of misunderstandings, such as that gangsterism is a wholesale and routine part of America's way of life.

HEAVY ARMS SPENDING

Washington, March 26 (P)—The State Department says Russia is spending 20 per cent of its national income on arms compared with 15 per cent by the west. ## Seed Box Good Place To Sow Most Flower Seeds

Many home gardeners start most flower seeds in seed boxes, even after the weather has warmed up outdoors. Advantages of this practice are:

1. Soil well suited for germinating seeds can easily be supplied in the box.

2. Boxes can be placed near the source of water; moved to the shade when the sun is too hot; moved into the sun in cool weather.

3. All plants that develop can be set out in the garden each in the place desired, with no losses from thinning out.

These are real advantages, as those who have tried sowing seeds direct in the garden will understand. They apply especially to the larger flowers, which must be widely spaced, but not so well to flowers that grow in ribbon plantings, such as alyssum, and not at all to those that dislike transplanting such as poppies, portulaca and salpiglossis.

A disadvantage is that every time a plant is lifted and moved to a new location it experiences a shock and set-back. This can be overcome by starting your seed boxes early in a cold frame, hotbed, or in the house; and also by sowing the seeds so far apart that they can be moved from the box direct to places in the garden, thus experiencing transplanting shock only once.

To grow the largest plants you can in the shortest time, sowing in a seed box should be made with the seeds thinly spaced, so plants will not be crowded when they come up.

It should be sufficient to sow twice as many seeds as you have room for, to allow for failure from accidents, or other causes. If all seeds row, some plants may have to be taken out, but as many as possible should be grown without check to garden size.

Garden size may mean anything from the second pair of leaves up, depending on how late you sow. The younger a plant is when moved outdoors, the quicker it will recover and resume growth. Plants may be moved to the garden as soon as the weather permits, if they have made true leaves. They should not be started under protection so early that they outgrow their indoor quarters when it is still too cold to move outdoors, as this may seriously check their growth.

If you take as a guide the date in your locality after which the garden is usually safe from killing frosts, then you may start seed four weeks before that date in a cold frame or in the house; six weeks before in a hot-bed and eight weeks or more in a greenhouse, and be reasonably sure that, provided you grow your plants in containers which have plenty of soil, you can grow them without check until safe to move them to the garden.

SPRING NOTES ON ROSE CARE

There is no "luck" in rose growing. Beautiful roses are the certain rewards from planting high-grade stock at the right time, by proper methods, in suitable soils and thereafter protecting the plants from insect enemies and diseases. In these and minor steps of culture the "when" is frequently as important as the "how." Below are a few practical suggestions on both phases:

Before rose leaves put forth, preferably on a mild day within the next two weeks, spray dormant plants with Bordeaux mixture to reduce certain forms of canker and to prevent black spot and mildew. If rust has been prevalent this dormant application will also curb the danger. Many experienced rose growers prefer lime-sulphur for this spray, one part concentrate with 8 parts water. In no case should the latter advised fungicide be used at the recommended strength after leaves begin to open.

Black spot and mildew are fungous diseases, caused by tiny organisms (fungi) which live over winter in foliage and other rose debris left on or near the plants from the previous summer. Careful sanitation by burning such litter in late fall or early spring is an effective prevention measure. However, even the most thorough precautions will not eliminate all dangers of infection. Therefore, rose growers should plan to dust their plants with a continuing preventive fungicide every week to 10 days from the time leaves open until early fall.

One of the most effective and economical dusts for this purpose is easily prepared at home by mixing 1 pound of lead arsenate with 9 pounds of superfine dusting sulphur. This is not the ordinary flowers of sulphur but is a finely ground brand used especially in fungicidal roles. In most parts of the United States this mixture is called Massey Dust.

Rose slugs are usually the guilty culprits when rose foliage is found riddled by skeletonizing. These and most other chewing pests are kept under control by the recommended dustings. But when slugs require special combat, rotenone applied as a dust or spray will be found effective.

The green aphid (louse) is perhaps the most troublesome of all common rose enemies in spring and early summer. Such stomach poisons as lead arsenate, calcium arsenate and others used to control chewing insects will not curb this sap-sucking visitor. It must be combated with a contact insecticide, one that causes death by direct contact with the creature's body. Nicotine sulfate, in spray or dust form, is recommended. Almost all bush roses should be pruned before growth starts. As a

Farm Income Down; City Figures Up

Washington, March 26 (P)—The Department of Agriculture says income was down, down on the farm last year, while it went up, up in the city.

Net 1950 income for farm operators dropped eight per cent from the 1949 level, the department's Bureau of Agriculture economics said recently, despite higher prices for farm products. This was a preliminary figure.

It was the third year in a row that net farm income declined. Net income is what the farmer has left after paying his production expenses. Increases in costs of goods and services ate up most of the increased prices the farmer received for his products, the department said.

Net farm income for 1950 was estimated at $12,974,000,000 compared with $14,129,000,000 in 1949, $16,526,000,000 in 1948 and the record high of $17,794,000,000 in 1947.

intestines they attack, symptoms causted, and severity of effects. Chicks that have recovered from a mild attack of coccidiosis are subsequently immune to that particular species of organism but not to other species.

Among symptoms of the chief form of this trouble are rapid loss of weight, bloody diarrhea, ruffled feathers, and often sudden death without visible symptoms. Chicks up to two months of age are most subject to death on a serious scale from this most prevalent type of the scourge.

There is considerable evidence that chicks which take a few of the coccidia (organisms) into their digestive tract will develop a mild form of coccidiosis and thereafter remain immune to the trouble so far as that particular species of organism is involved. This fact helps to explain why older fowls do not contract the disease. Too, it may upset the former theory and practice that chicks should be kept completely free from all potential contact with the danger. Thus, on one side of the ledger experience proves that severity of coccidiosis depends on how many coccidia the individual chick takes into its body; on the other side it may be desirable that it acquires at least a few to gain immunity.

General prevention measures are based on six main steps:

1. Have the brooder house and equipment clean and thoroughly disinfected when chicks arrive.
2. Use sanitary hoppers and drinking fountains to prevent chicks from contaminating feed and drink by their feet or droppings.
3. Because coccidia are difficult to destroy by ordinary disinfecting measures, daily removal of droppings should be stressed. Likewise extreme cleanliness is better than frequent disinfection.
4. Keep chicks from contact with

2nd Assassination Death In Tehran

Tehran, March 26 (P)—A second assassination death was recorded yesterday in this terror-threatened capital, now under martial law. Dr. Abdul Hamid Zanganeh, former education minister of Iran, died from the bullet a student fired into him last Monday.

Premier Ali Razmara was assassinated March 7 by a member of the Moslem terrorist group, Fedayan Islam, which has sparked the fight for nationalization of Iran's British dominated oil industry. Razmara opposed the government take-over which an apprehensive Parliament approved in principle after his death.

Zanganeh, president of the Tehran university law faculty, was a close friend of Razmara. Though police said his assailant was enraged because Zanganeh caught him cheating and barred him from the school, officials believed the youth also was a member of Fedayan Islam.

"Ticking" Student
Passes Draft Exam

Oklahoma City, March 26 (AP)—The Army doesn't know what makes Jack tick, but it wants him anyway. Jack Husband, 20, Southwestern State college student, passed his draft physical examination despite a fast, staccato ticking noise in his head.

The racket has been going on in Jack's cranium since he can remember. He's so used to it—when the ticking stopped two times in his memory, the silence annoyed him. Army medics said the ticking puzzled them—just like it has a long line of civilian doctors. They reasoned if Jack could stand the noise, the Army could, and passed him for induction. Jack now has 19 days more of civilian life.

MEAT PACKERS DEFER STRIKE FOR SIX WEEKS

Chicago, March 26 (AP)—The threat of an immediate serious strike by more than 200,000 workers against the nation's meat packing industry eased Saturday.

AFL and independent union workers have promised to stay on the job for at least six weeks past the threatened strike deadline of midnight Sunday.

But there remained the possibility of a walkout by some 120,000 members of the CIO United Packinghouse workers.

The unions are not in dispute with the packers. They threatened walkouts stems from the government's refusal to approve an 11 cent hourly wage boost.

CIO Union Talks
The CIO union, at meetings with major packers on Friday, failed to agree to extend the strike deadline. Further meetings were planned. President Ralph Helstein said the union's strike strategy committee remained in Chicago "for strike call action at any time."

The CIO workers can strike at any time after midnight Sunday when the present contract expires. Most of them are employed by the large packing plants.

But the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher workmen reached an agreement with Swift and Armour, two major packers, not to strike at least until May 6. A union spokesman said similar agreements will be made with other packers. Most of the AFL union's 100,000 members work for the smaller packing firms.

Swift also reached agreement with the Independent National Brotherhood of Packinghouse workers delaying a threatened strike of its 10,000 members until May 7.

Consider Wage Hike
The extension of the strike deadline is designed to give government officials a chance to reconsider the wage hike agreed by the packers and unions on Feb. 9.

Eric Johnston, wage stabilization director, rejected the agreement. He said it violated the government wage formula which limits pay increases to 10 per cent above Jan. 15, 1950. He said three cents of the pay raise could be allowed under the formula.

In a statement released on Friday Mayor Lawrence commented: "If the committee thinks it can serve its purpose by coming to Pittsburgh, we will cooperate in every way possible."

2 "LOST" BOYS ARE PRISONERS

Pittsburgh, March 26 (AP)—Two western Pennsylvania families with sons in Korea have a new understanding today of Easter and the resurrection it commemorates.

A Butler county clergyman and a Washington, Pa., mother have been informed that the 19-year-old sons they believed dead are prisoners of war.

The Rev. Harlan M. Miller, of Chicago, realized his son is alive when he saw him standing among a group of prisoners in a picture released by the Chinese Reds.

"This is really a very blessed Easter," Mrs. Miller said.

Mrs. Antoinette Razvoza also believe her son was a war casualty. Her message of hope came from the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The Pittsburgh paper learned that a packet of 23 letters from prisoners of war were received by a Denver, Colo., family. One of the letters was from Mrs. Razvoza's son, Sgt. Richard J. Razvoza. The happy mother said:

"Now Easter will mean more to me. I thought he was dead and the War department was afraid to tell me."

NON-RED RAIL UNION GIVEN PAY INCREASE

Paris, March 26 (AP)—One of France's non-Communist unions ordered its 65,000 railroad workers back to the job today after getting wage increases from the government.

Another non-Communist union announced, however, that contrary to a government announcement, it had not accepted the latter's terms and consequently was not ordering its 65,000 workers back.

The Socialist labor federation, Workers' Force (Force Ouvrier) accepted the agreement providing for a minimum wage increase of 1,800 francs ($5.15) a month. The boost is expected to go as high as 2,250 francs ($6.10) in the Paris area.

The Confederation of Christian Workers said it had not accepted this and would confer with government negotiators again.

Despite this delay, French observers said the end seemed in sight for France's week-long wave of strikes, unless the Communists succeed in pushing their adherents on with further walkouts.

Avoid Red Group
Government negotiators have avoided sitting down with the Communist-led General Labor Confederation (CGT), which controls some 300,000 rail workers.

However, the CGT has, thus far, let the non-Communist unions take the initiative in the current walkouts.

The wage increases for railroad workers are said to be applicable to striking Paris transport workers. Representatives of the bus and subway workers are due to confer with government officials during the day. The government also has given striking gas and electricity workers a 10 per cent increase and non-Communist unions have ordered these workers back to the job.

day. The tot was the son of Sgt. Frederick Koch, who is stationed at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and Mrs. Shirley Koch of Harrisburg.

SEND BUS TO SOLDIERS

Clearfield, Pa., March 26 (AP)—Men from Clearfield who are training with Battery A, 200th Armored Field Artillery Battalion, at Fort Campbell, Ky., won't have to worry about transportation. Residents of this small community are shipping the battery a 28-passenger reconditioned bus purchased through subscriptions.

Two Youths Confess Murdering Soldier

Allentown, Pa., March 26 (AP)—District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch said two Allentown youths will be charged with murder today in the death of Master Sergeant Raymond S. Noll.

Koch said they were Jack L. Cherozy, 17, an Allentown high senior, and Stanley Marvin, Jr., 20, unemployed. He said they admitted the killing.

The body of the 37-year-old sergeant, a native of Allentown who was stationed at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., was found Saturday in his convertible parked in an isolated section of East Allentown. His head had been battered.

Koch said the youths admitted beating Noll after an argument.

Will Push Action On Oleo Measure

Harrisburg, March 26 (AP)—The fight for removal of the ban against the sale of colored oleomargarine in Pennsylvania may come to a head in the Senate this week.

Sen. George B. Scarlett (R-Ches-ter), chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, said he wants to get the oleo issue "thrashed out as soon as possible."

"If I can get the committee together this week, we will certainly give the oleo bills top attention," Scarlett told a reporter.

At least 10 bills to revise the oleo laws to permit sale of yellow margarine are now pending before Senate and House agriculture committees. All bills must win committee approval before they can go to the floor for a vote.

Reading, Pa., March 26 (AP)—Billy Huber, Reading, nosed out Bobby Hill, Columbus, Ohio, in a photo finish to set a track record in the five mile race for expert riders at the Eastern Inaugural Motorcycle races yesterday.

More than 2,000 persons watched Huber set the pace after passing Billy Miller, Mountville, Pa., in the third lap. The record time was 4:53.09, five seconds better than the previous mark. Miller ended third in the feature event. Hank Smith, Reading, was fourth.

LEGISLATURE TO TACKLE FINE'S TAX PLAN TODAY

Harrisburg, March 26 (AP)—Members of the legislature returned today to tackle Gov. Fine's proposed $163,300,000 tax program after sounding out sentiment over the Easter holiday.

The governor's new tax package, topped by a one-half of one per cent flat income tax, probably will be introduced in the House late in the afternoon.

Introduction of the tax bills is expected to provoke attacks by Democrats in both Houses.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democrat floor leader, already has termed the income tax proposal as "obnoxious to the lower income workingman and his family."

See Tough Battle
Fine has asked for levy of the flat income tax as well as a one per cent increase in the present four per cent corporate net income tax to help balance his $1,220,000,000 state budget for the next two years.

He estimated the income tax would produce about $119,500,000 during the next two years, and the corporate tax increase about $44,600,000.

The governor also has recommended that all existing taxes be continued with the exception of the cent-a-bottle soft drinks tax. A tough battle is in prospect meanwhile before the tax bills become law. Dent already has said the 29 Democratic votes in the Senate are solidly against the income tax proposal.

Three Republican Senators also have come out against the income

20 Injured When Ski Lift Collapses

Vancouver, B. C., March 26 (AP)—A ski lift on Grouse mountain collapsed yesterday and sent passengers tumbling down the mountainside, injuring an estimated 20 persons. Five were seriously hurt.

The lift's 1 1/2 inch steel cable jumped the wheel controlling it when a passenger chair "swung out of control," Royal Canadian mounted police said.

Skiers and tourists tumbled helter-skelter to the hard-packed snow 20 feet below the lift chairs. Heavy snow at the upper levels of the mountain, on the north shore of Burrard Inlet, saved many more from serious injury.

Volunteers worked far into the tax levy. They are Sen. G. Graybill Diehm (Lancaster), John G. Snowden (Lyceming) and C. Arthur Blass (Erie).

There was also a report that southeastern county legislators may use the income tax proposal to force Fine to help free non-resident workers from payment of Philadelphia's one and one-quarter per cent wage tax.

"Are all automatic drives alike?"

That's a question we often hear—and we believe the answer to it has a big bearing on your choice of a new car. The answer is...

NOT in snow, sand, or mud! If ever you've bogged down and couldn't "rock" your car because of the gear-shift lag in a self-shifting transmission...you'll appreciate this Packard Ultramatic advantage: You can change instantly—without clashing—from Forward to Reverse!

NOT on slippery streets! If a sudden "down-shift" has ever thrown your car into a dangerous skid, you'll know why Packard owners are so enthusiastic about the safety of Ultramatic Drive. Its smooth, gradual engine braking power gives you complete control all the time!

NOT on the long haul! If you're familiar with the cost of gas-wasting slippage at cruising speeds—or if you've paid the maintenance bills on a complicated, self-shifting transmission—you'll welcome the thrifty, lasting efficiency of Packard Ultramatic Drive. No gas-wasting slippage when cruising. And no maintenance complications.

You owe it to yourself to be fully informed on automatic drives before you buy any new car today. The best way to make comparisons, of course, is to start with the most advanced drive of them all—Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive!

8 KILLED IN PENNSYLVANIA OVER EASTER

(By The Associated Press)

Eight persons lost their lives in accidents in Pennsylvania over an Easter week-end which was one of the safest holiday interludes in years.

Five were killed in traffic accidents, two by fire. A three-year-old boy drowned in an abandoned well, three miles south of St. Mary's, killed Milo P. Spangler, 29, of Daguerres, and injured Eugene E. Gruber, 46, of Strattonville, and his 15-year-old daughter, Elizabeth.

Aged Man Killed

Edward Joseph Sutter Hall, 73, a great grandson of General John A. Sutter of California gold rush fame, was struck by an automobile in Lancaster, and died two hours later in a hospital.

William T. Bennett, 80, also died of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car. He was hit at a street intersection in Strongstown, Indiana county and died in Johnstown Memorial hospital.

The other traffic accident victims were William Bellingher, 56, Pittsburgh, and Robert Fegley, 17, who lived near Reading.

A man and his wife were fatally burned in a fire which destroyed their one-story rural home near Chambersburg. The body of R. Edgar Shearer, 28, was found by firemen in the bedroom. Shearer's wife,

Virginia, the same age, escaped from the blazing house but died later of burns.

Find Boy In Well

The body of Gerald Gould, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gould of Spring Mount, near Norristown, was found in a disused well by an assistant scoutmaster and close family friend.

Volunteer firemen and Boy Scouts searched for hours before Clark Stober, the scout leader, wandered into a field near the Gould home and came upon the old well. The rotted boards covering it had given way under the boy's weight.

Report AFL Leaders Oppose Income Tax

York, Pa., March 26 (AP)—Top leaders of the state AFL are expected to go on record today against Gov. Fine's proposed state income tax.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor's executive council called a closed meeting late in the afternoon to consider Fine's proposals for raising $163,000,000 in new taxes during the next two years.

James L. McDewitt, state AFL president, said the council's recommendations concerning the governor's tax plans would be presented before the AFL's 49th annual convention opening here tomorrow.

CHURCHILL IS WAGING STOUT FIGHT ABROAD

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Efforts of Britain's big Conservative party, led by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, to bring about the downfall of the Socialist government in the House of Commons have resulted in an amazing battle.

The strategy of the attack revolves about the fact that the Socialists have a tiny majority of only six votes. If sickness or other causes should result in absences and thus wipe out the Socialist majority, the government's downfall might be brought about by a sharp vote of no confidence.

This would result in a general election which the Conservatives believe they could win.

Wearing Down Foe

Churchill, crafty general of innumerable campaigns, has been pursuing the tactic of trying literally to wear out physically the harassed Socialists whose leader, Prime Minister Attlee, is in hospital suffering from an ulcer. This wearing out process has been conducted by keeping the House in session until early morning hours.

The trick isn't difficult, but it does require attendance of the Conservatives and eternal vigilance. The idea is to force a debate on every routine matter, thus consuming time and keeping the House in session until it is tired out. It's a sort of American Congressional filibuster.

This brings us up to a result of the strategy which the Socialists condemn fiercely as unfair. The ordinary, cheap transportation of London, such as the subway and buses, closes down at midnight. After that you hoof it, take a taxicab or drive your own car.

Few Have Cars

The Socialists are labor folk and few of them possess automobiles. So when they are kept in Commons until midnight they have no way of getting home except to walk. Many Conservatives, on the other hand, have their cars waiting for them when the exhausting sessions are finished.

However, this Conservative strategy is a two-edged knife which cuts both ways. Even if the Tories don't have to walk home, they are mighty tired when the session is over.

Churchill, still full of fight despite his seventy odd years, has declared a battle to the finish.

Identity by name, said the executive council is all but certain to oppose Fine's proposal for levy of a one-half per cent income tax in Pennsylvania.

A dead person may vote, legally, if he mails an absentee ballot and then dies before election day.

MARTIN, DUFF FAVOR STATE CRIME PROBE

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Both of Pennsylvania's Republican senators want the Senate committees investigating the Reconstruction Finance corporation and interstate crime to stay alive for some time to come.

Senator James A. Duff said he would like to see the Kefauver committee do some probing in Pittsburgh. Senator Edward Martin echoed Duff's sentiments.

Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Crime Investigating committee, and Senator Charles W. Tobey (R-N.H.) agreed that they should investigate Pittsburgh.

"We have quite a dossier on Pittsburgh," Kefauver said.

To Vote Funds

In a statement Saturday night, Duff said he would vote to extend the authority of the RFC and crime investigations, backing up the special committees with the money they need to do a thorough job.

"The disclosures of grossly irregular conduct and the shocking disregard of official duty in connection with loans obtained from the RFC, and the extent to which racket influence has reached into important places in various large cities of the United States has shaken and amazed the American people," Duff said.

"This is no time to stop these investigations. They should be given full speed ahead. The lid should be pulled off every place where there is reason to suspect rottenness inside, and the whole stinking business probed to the bottom."

CLUB TO MEET

A discussion on "What Makes a Leader" will be presented Thurs day evening at 8 o'clock at the meeting of the Adams County Senior Extension club to be held at the Ardmoreville grade school. Frank Gantz, Harold Ecker and Kathryn Bucher will lead the discussion. President Roland Kline will preside at the business portion of the meeting.
